Mexico City, February 7, 2025.- The NASCAR Mexico City Weekend announces that on February 26th, tickets will be on sale in advance through the Banamex Presale, while the general sale to the public will be on February 27th. During this exciting weekend, fans will be able to enjoy three different NASCAR series in the same place and be part of a historic moment in world motorsport as it will be the scenario of the first scoring race of the NASCAR Cup Series outside the United States, the main championship of the category. Besides, they will be able to live all the adrenaline of the NASCAR Xfinity Series, which returns to Autódromo Hermanos Rodríguez after 17 years of absence; finishing with the action of the NASCAR Mexico Series, which has become a talent breeding ground, where drivers like the Mexican driver Daniel Suárez have been born.

Those interested in purchasing tickets, which will consist of a three-day ticket for the three days of the event, in the Banamex Presale will be able to do it through Ticketmaster Mexico or at the Palacio de los Deportes box office, starting at 10:00 am. Customers with Banamex credit cards will be able to enjoy 3 months without interest, while Banamex debit card holders can pay in a single instalment. During the general public sale, which will also start at 10 am, fans will be able to purchase their tickets with their preferred bank card through Ticketmaster Mexico, as well as at the Palacio de los Deportes box office (no sales at Ticketmaster Centres), limited to a maximum of 8 tickets per transaction.

During the event, which will take place from 13 to 15 June, different zones will be set up at the Autódromo Hermanos Rodríguez (Green, Blue, Brown and Grey Zone) where attendees will be able to enjoy different benefits in each one of them. Thus, with the purpose of offering a great weekend for all motorsports fans, the NASCAR Mexico City Weekend has a wide range of ticket prices, starting at $55 USD.

Zone	Benefits	Grandstand	Price USD *Without the Ticketmaster service fee
Green	View of the main straight and pits	Main Grand Stand 1	From $360 to $540
		Main Grand Stand 2
	View of the main straight	PWD	$75
Blue	Side view of main straight and turns 1, 2 and 3, and front view of back straight	Grandstand 3	From $55 to $200
		Grandstand 4
		Grandstand 5
		Grandstand 6
Grey (Stadium Zone)	View of the stadium area	Gold Box North	From $260 to $400
		North 15
Brown (Stadium Zone)	View of the stadium area	Gold Box South	From $260 to $400
		South 14

The cost does not include Ticketmaster service charges.*

The NASCAR Mexico City Weekend will use the international layout of the Autódromo Hermanos Rodríguez, which was renovated for the return of Formula 1 to Mexico in 2015. But unlike the traditional ovals, where NASCAR races usually take place, the track will be modified with a cut in turn 4, skipping turns 5 and 6, and it will have a length of 3.89 km and 14 turns. In this way, the track will be adapted to offer a more competitive race between the stock cars of the different NASCAR series that will be racing that weekend.

Also, the NASCAR Mexico City Weekend unveils the official poster of the event, which highlights the participation of renowned NASCAR Cup Series drivers such as the Mexican Daniel Suarez, Ryan Blaney, Chase Elliott and Bubba Wallace, with the emblematic background of the main straight of the Autodromo Hermanos Rodriguez and the cars of the main NASCAR series, which leaves the North American country for the first time for a qualifying race within the championship. In addition, the NASCAR Mexico City Weekend logo was inspired by papel picado motifs, an emblematic tradition of our country with pre-Hispanic roots and considered Intangible Heritage of Humanity by UNESCO, symbolizing the fusion of this premier stock car event with the rich Mexican culture.
